GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VII. NO. 52. GREENSBORO, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1900. Price Five Cents

ALL DEMOCRATS ARE INVITED.

A GREAT OCCASION IN DANVILLE.

A Quartette of Eminent Democrats to Speak There Wednesday—David B. Hill, John W. Daniel, W. W. Kitchin and Claude A. Swanson—A Special Invitation to the Democrats of Greensboro to be Present and Take Part in the Exercises of the Day.

There will be a great time in Danville next week, and the free street fair and carnival will not furnish all the attractions. Wednesday is to be "Democratic Day," and orators of both State and National reputation will be there to arouse and thrill the people.

The orators of the occassion will be Hon. David B. Hill, of New York; Congressman Kitchin, of this district, and Senator John W. Daniel and Congressman Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia. A quartette of men who can hold their own, either in point of eloquent oratory or strong debate, with any set of men in the country, they will doubtless draw one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in the Old Dominion on any like occasion. Each of the above named gentlemen has strong admirers in this city, and a large delegation of Greensboro Democrats will hear them in Danville next Wednesday. Through County Chairman Scales the following invitation has been extended to all Democrats in this city:

DEAR SIR:—We, representing the Democrats of Danville, respectfully invite you and your club, and all Democrats of your city, to join with us in welcoming to Danville on Wednesday, October 3d, Hon. David B. Hill, of New York; Hon. W. W. Kitchin, of North Carolina, and Hon. John W. Daniel and Hon. Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia.

We hope that your club will attend in a body and that the Democrats of your city will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear Democratic principles and policies expounded by these eminent orators and statesmen. We most cordially and heartily invite all of you to come. Respectfully,

EUGENE WITHERS,
Chairman Democratic Party.
O. W. DUDLEY,
President Bryan, Stevenson and Swanson Club.

He Concentrated.

Professor Countemfast is a small man with a large mentality. His wife is a tall woman, who believes in the power of matter over mind. The professor had been absorbed the whole evening in a profound paper on the mental characteristics of people who were unhappily married. Suddenly looking up, he remarked:

"My dear, are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs about 3½ pounds?"

"Humph! You've just read that, haven't you?"

"Er—er—why—er—oh, yes; certainly, of course."

"Well, that article says a woman's brain is not so heavy, eh?"

"Er—er—yes, it certainly does, but"—

"And it also states that a woman's brain is of much finer quality, doesn't it?"

"Er—er—well, yes; you are quite right, my dear."

"Now, listen to me. Just concentrate your 3½ pound brain on that scuttle and figure out how much it will weigh after you bring it full of coal from the cellar." The professor meekly bowed his great head, and, as he departed for the lower regions in search of abstract information, he murmured:

"The man who thinks that mind is superior to matter is an illustrious idiot."—London Tit-Bits.

The Trunk Paid.

Some years ago a man ran up a bill of $200 in the Tremont House, Chicago, and then ran away without settling it. The trunk which remained in his room was unusually heavy and when opened after his departure was found to contain specimens of ore, brought from the gold and silver mines of Colorado, where presumably he had lost all his money. After waiting out the legal time Mr. Gage sent the contents of the trunk to an assayer, who returned two bits of metal valued at more than $100 in excess of the bill after deducting his own fees.

Mechanism of a Fish.

People marvel at the mechanism of the human body, with its 492 bones and 60 arteries, but man is simple in this respect compared with the carp. That remarkable fish moves no fewer than 4,386 bones and muscles every time it breathes. It has 4,320 veins, to say nothing of its 99 muscles.

Tact is being more and more recognized as a valuable instrument in man's welfare and happiness.—Philadelphia Ledger.

TWO EXECUTIONS.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Raleigh, Sept. 28.—Archie Kinsauls was hanged at Clinton at 1 o'clock this afternoon for a murder committed two years ago.

There was no disturbance at either place.

Today the Supreme Court granted license to 33 of the 47 applicants who stood the examination last week.

MISSED CONNECTION.

They Started to Danville to See "Sherlock Holmes," But Spent the Night in Greensboro.

Messrs. C. N. Evans, Charles Penn and Robert Montgomery, popular young society men of Reidsville, spent last night in Greensboro, somewhat against their will. This is how it happened:

Desiring to go to Danville to see "Sherlock Holmes," and no northbound train stopping at Reidsville after No. 36 in the afternoon, they boarded the southbound local, expecting to meet a fast freight at Benaja that would carry them to Danville. At Benaja there was no sign of a freight, and coming on to Greensboro, they learned that a defective engine had delayed the train and that they would not be able to reach Danville in time for the show. There was no way out of the difficulty, so they spent the night in Greensboro, returning to Reidsville this morning.

LARGEST FAMILY IN THE COUNTY.

There are Twenty-Three Members and They Reside at Proximity.

The largest family in Guilford county resides at Proximity, having moved there from Friendship township one day this week. The family consists of a husband, Mr. A. M. Farrington, a wife and 21 children. Mr. Farrington was a widower with a number of children and recently married a widow, gaining a number of others by annexation, as it were.

This family should attend the Fair in a body and compete for the five dollars in gold to be given by Mr. J. B. Stroud to the largest family in attendance on any one day.

MR. WYCHE'S WORK.

Presents Stories in a Fascinating Form and Elicits Interest.

The Standard has the following to say of Mr. Richard T. Wyche, of this city, who is at present filling an engagement in Concord:

"Mr. Richard T. Wyche, formerly a citizen of our town, is here to spend a few days. Mr. Wyche is unique in his calling, being a professional story-teller. His work is with the school children. He deduces stories from the literary and historical courses being taught, and presents them in fascinating form in order to elicit interest with the pupils. He comes highly recommended by many of the leading educators of the State."

Collector of the Port of Durham.

During the last term of Congress Durham was made a port of entry for the collection of internal revenue taxes. Mr. J. M. Sykes, of this city, has been appointed collector of the port. He has filed his bond and will assume the duties of the office within the next few days.

Mr. Sykes formerly resided in Oxford and was employed at Republican headquarters, in this city, during the late campaign.

Book Club Meeting.

The Ladies' Book Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Neil Ellington Wednesday afternoon, October 3rd, at 5 o'clock. Each lady is requested to bring a slip of paper on which will be written her choice of books, with the names of the authors.

By order of the President.

MRS WILL ALLEN, Sec.

Has Realized the Need of Such a Machine.

Greensboro Patriot.

Mr. D. S. Settlemyre, of Connelly Springs, last week secured a patent on an invention called a "baby walker." If the contrivance can be wound up and adjusted to run all night Mr. Settlemyre's fortune is as good as made.

A PRINCE GAVE AID

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY MADE.

BOXER SUBSCRIPTION LIST FOUND.

Prince Ching's Name Down for Three Subscriptions—The List in the Possession of the American Legation—The Trial of Von Kettler's Assassin—Sentence Not Pronounced—Everything Quiet in Pekin—Reported Russian Annexation of Manchuria Amounts Only to Military Occupancy.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Pekin, Sept. 28.—The American legation is in possession of the subscription list of the Boxers. Among the list of contributors is the name of Prince Ching, who is down for three subscriptions. The list was discovered by Rev. Mr. Wherry, a missionary. The friends of Ching say he was coerced into giving money to the society.

VON KETTLER'S ASSASSIN TRIED.

Manchu, the assassin of Baron Kettler, the German consul, was tried by court-martial yesterday. No new evidence was presented. The court decided that it would not be justified in pronouncing sentence on the prisoner, who, however, will be held in the hope of receiving further information.

It is reported by the French that a patrol was fired on, on the outside of the eastern gate of the city. Otherwise everything is quiet.

THE ANNEXATION OF MANCHURIA.

Paris, Sept. 28.—It is stated in official circles here that the reported annexation of Manchuria by Russia merely amounts to military occupation. The Russian and Chinese flags are flying together.

NEW ENTERPRISE IN HIGH POINT.

A Strong Company Organized to Manufacture Iron Bedsteads.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

High Point, Sept. 28.—Another enterprise has been added to the already long list of manufactories here. A company composed of representative business men was organized here this week for the purpose of manufacturing iron bedsteads. Undoubtedly such an enterprise will do well in High Point, which is the recognized furniture market of the South and West.

A large lot has been purchased in the southern part of town and work on the building will commence at once.

The name of the organization is the High Point Metallic Bed Company, with an authorized capital of $50,000. The following officers compose the company: President, J. H. Millis; vice-president, E. M. Armfield; secretary and treasurer, R. H. Wheeler.

The company expects to have goods on the market by January 1, next.

Marriage at Mt. Olivet.

Correspdence of The Telegram.

Mt. Olivet, Sept. 28.—At the residence of the bride's father, Rev. W. W. Lawrence, Rev. E. L. Stack, of Greensboro, and Miss Dora Lawrence were united in marriage, the rite being solemnized by Rev. H. A. Albright.

Brother Stack is a live worker in the Methodist church and a prosperous young business man of Greensboro, while Miss Lawrence is one of the leading Christian workers of this place. The happy couple will leave for Greensboro in the morning where they will make their future home. They are followed by our best wishes.

A FRIEND.

Getting in Shape for the Fair.

The executive committee of the Central Carolina Fair Association held a meeting in Secretary Walsh's office last night, transacting only routine business. Everything is now getting in fine shape for the Fair, which promises to exceed expectations.

Married in Winston.

Dr. J. G. Ector, a well known citizen of this county, residing at Friendship, was married in Winston yesterday afternoon to Mrs Ida H. Warner, of the western part of this county. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. G. Kirkman.

CAPTURED BY FILIPINOS.

Captain Shields and Fifty-Two Enlisted Men Prisoners—Many Were Killed.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Gen. MacArthur cables the State Department that Captain Shields, of the Twenty-ninth Infantry, and fifty-two enlisted men were captured by Filipinos while making an overland march.

A sharp fight occurred and many Americans were killed. Captain Shields was wounded. A reserve column has been sent out.

One Killed and Fifteen Injured.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 28.—A passenger train was wrecked at Gartner, on the Southern Pacific railroad, last night. Fifteen passengers were injured, and one—Mrs. Lowell, of Trenton, Mo., was killed. Six of the injured were taken to a hospital at Ogden.

A Bank Robbed of $10,000.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Centreville, Mich., Sept. 28—Wolf Brothers' bank was robbed last night of $10,000. Thieves gained entrance into the building by prying open the double door with a large file. The outer door of the large safe was dynamited.

Mr. J. Addison Newman and Miss Emma R. Ozment, of Sumner township, were married in this city last night. The ceremony was performed by Justice J. A. Pritchett.

The Tent Meeting.

A large congregation attended the gospel service in the tent on South Elm street last night. The service was both pleasant and profitable. Several professed having sought and found pardon for their sins.

Services are held daily at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Why He Wanted a Receipt.

There was a lawyer in the Indian country who had none too good a reputation for honesty, says the Chicago News.

One of the aborigines employed him to do a little legal business. It was done to the client's satisfaction, the fee duly paid and a receipt for it duly demanded. "A receipt isn't necessary," the lawyer said. "But I want it," replied the red man. There was some argument, and the attorney finally demanded his reason. "Since becoming a Christian I have been very careful in all my dealings that I may be ready for the judgment," answered the brave sententiously, "and when that day comes I don't want to take time to go to the bad place to get my receipt from you." The receipt was made out and promptly delivered.

Thrive Without Meat.

It is the religion of nearly all Asiatics to abstain from eating flesh, fish or fowl, because it is a sin to kill for food anything that has instinct, "lest it be hindered on its upward way." Besides, according to the doctrine of transmigration of souls, one might kill and eat one's grandmother. But, aside from that, vegetable food, it is claimed, makes better muscle and bone than meat. Anyway, it is well known that the stevedores of Constantinople and other eastern ports never eat meat, and that, as a class, they have no superiors anywhere in the world in physical strength.

The most magnificent tomb in the world is deemed to be the palace temple of Karnak, occupying an area of nine acres.

ARE CONFERRING IN NEW YORK.

TO SETTLE THE MINERS' STRIKE.

Important Meeting of the Anthracite Coal Operators—Wish to Know What Terms Will be Agreeable to the Miners—At Wilkesbarre Both Miners and Operators Are Eagerly Awaiting the Result of the Conference.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Sept. 28.—An important meeting of the anthracite coal operators of Pennsylvania will he held in this city today to discuss the terms of a settlement of the miners' strike. John Markle arrived here this morning on a special train to attend the conference. The other operators expected to hear from him something concerning the terms the miners are willing to accept.

MINERS EAGERLY WAITING.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 28.—The miners and operators here were waiting eagerly this morning for news from New York regarding the proposed settlement of the strike, but neither had any direct information. The operators were said to have received no information from the head men of the companies now in New York, but expected it at any time.

NOT A COLLIERY AT WORK.

Shenandoah, Sept. 28.—There is not a colliery on the North Broad Mountain working today. The employes of the Potts colliery, at Locustdale, failed to report this morning. That colliery was the last of three working in the Ashland district to shut down. About three thousand miners in that section are idle.

A PUGILISTIC COON.

Pearly Gray, colored, a leading citizen of Duplin and a familiar figure in the Police court, is again in the clutches of the law. He became drunk, very drunk, yesterday afternoon and put on his war paint. In the course of his rounds he encountered several members of the female population of Duplin, and a row quite naturally followed.

It was a bloody fight, hot and furious. Knives, sticks and other implements of aggressive warfare were brought into requisition, and although numbers were against him, Pearly seemed destined to be master of the situation. Had it not been for the timely appearance of Chief Scott and Officer Merritt there is no telling what might have happened, but these two guardians of the peace and dignity of the city succeeded in presuading the obstreperous Pearly to accompany them to jail, where he now languishes.

TEN PERSONS INJURED.

Horses Take a Wild Dash Down a Mountain Side.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Jersey City, Sept. 28.—Ten persons, seven of them women, members of a coaching party, all badly injured in a wild dash down a mountain side, arrived here this morning. A party of twelve had set out by coach from Twin Mountain House, Applewood, N. J., and going down, the horses took fright, and dashed down the steep road, the coach pitching from side to side until it was caught in a ditch and wrecked.

Four of the party were from Newark and six from Plainfield, N. J. George McPherson, of Detroit, and John McPherson, his brother, from Howell, Mich., were also in the party.

The horses were killed. Nearly all the injured passengers had broken ribs or limbs.

A Youthful Rogue Caught.

Mon Covington, a sly young negro, was arrested and locked up by Officer Whittington last night, after having eluded the police for nearly a month. Several weeks ago, Mon and another colored boy broke into the colored Odd Fellows hall and stole some brass fixtures which they disposed of for cash. The other boy was caught and was given a good flogging, which the mayor ordered his mother to administer. She did the task according to Hoyle. And now Mon also has visions of being tanned.

EX-STATE SENATOR ACCUSED

FRANKS CHARGED WITH PERJURY

The Odd Fellows Orphanage Flourishing—Some Sheriffs Don't Understand Tax Collections—The Populists and Republicans Want to Vote in the Senatorial Primary—Eight Men Wish to be Adjutant General—Instructions from the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Sept. 27.—Some comment having been made upon the smallness of the attendance at the Democratic Club State Convention here yesterday, Ex-Judge Womack explained it by saying he had never expected a large attendance; that it was extremely difficult to get such clubs together and that their real work and effectiveness was altogether local.

Mention was made some days ago of the fact that the penitentiary had obtained from the auditor a warrant for $35,000, balance on this year's appropriation of $50,000, and that Father Worth had declined to pay it, on the ground that he did not have the wherewithal. This warrant has now been withdrawn and one for $5,000 sbstituted, which Father Worth has cashed.

The penitentiary between August 8, 1899, and July 3, 1900, drew $11,700 for incidentals.

There are now 40 pupils in the Odd Fellows Orphanage at Goldsboro. The Orphanage is flourishing. The new matron has taken charge.

The State charters the Freeman & Hodges Lumber Company, of Beaufort county, capital $12,000, and authorizes the Oxford Furniture Company to increase its capital stock from $20,000 to $30,000.

The growers of cotton are simply delighted with this hot and sunny weather. They don't care if it continues for a fortnight. Never was there such a picking season. Old and young are at work. Wages are good and there is work for all.

It seems that some of the sheriffs are not up-to-date in the matter of taxes and so the chief clerk of the State Auditor is instructing them. One sheriff confessed he had never read the revenue act. He was shown where he had failed to collect $200 on taxables.

The show of Yancey county apples at the State Museum begins tomorrow. The photographs taken last spring of the first show of Western North Carolina apples are being widely used in railway papers.

A lot of the Populists and Republicans want to vote on the Senatorial question. A Democrat from Wilson spoke of this today. He was told that the Democrats knew the sheep from the goats very well, and had certainly "kept tab" mighty closely on the August vote.

The Copperville Company, of this city, is now turning out 35,000 brick a day at its yards a few miles south of here.

Chairman Travis, of the penitentiary executive board, referring to the fact that the number of convicts was at present only 800 as against 1,300 four years ago, said that the use of convicts by counties on roads was the cause of this great reduction, but that he did not think the number would go much lower, all the counties now having the road law that desire to have it.

Marshal Delancey Haywood, who has written some interesting monographs on North Carolina history, left today for Johns Hopkins University, to take a year's course in history.

Governor Russell decided not to interfere in regard to the executions tomorrow of Archie Kinsauls, white, at Clinton, and Chauncey Davis, colored, at Tarboro; the first for murder, the latter for arson. Kinsauls, though he swears that he will not be hung by a Populist sheriff, will therefore be executed by the latter, unless he commits suicide. Three weeks ago his friends gave him secretly morphine and a knife, and if they can will again aid him to cheat the gallows.

A trades parade was quite a feature of the last State fair, and a committee will get at work to secure another at the coming fair, October 22-27.

There are certainly a lot of aspirants for the position of adjutant general. Eight were mentioned today by one of the number.

Today's weather revives memories of the "late lamented" heated term.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction today sent the following circular to the County Superintendents of Education: "I still have some enquiries in regard to combining the public schools with denominational schools, and, therefore, write you in substance what I wrote the County Supervisors during the year 1898. I think it is the best for the committee always to provide a public school lot and building, since the spirit of our laws seems to be against combining church and State in any way. When the public school is combined with a denominational school the best interest of the public school can rarely if ever be served. The public school will not have the support of all the people when united with the church school. The public schools are for all the people, supported by all the people, and must serve all the people by giving instruction without any regard to denominations or churches. The law provides for combining public schools with private, but I do not think this, in any sense, means denominational or church schools. Therefore, my instruction to you as County Superintendent is that you do not combine public schools with denominational schools. I am aware that these church schools have well prepared teachers, but, notwithstanding this, the primary object for which they are employed is to benefit the church, and in every community we find some parents who will not send their children because the school is under church influence other than their own We must not have any hindrance or objections to our public schools that may be easily avoided. We must have the united support of the people in the public school work if the work is ever to be and to accomplish what it should."

The grand jury in the Superior Court here yesterday returned a true bill against ex-State Senator J. A. Franks, of Swain county, for perjury. The case is a sensational one. Franks is a Republican and was a member of the State Board of elections. Two years ago a man named George W. Justice came here from Ashville, as a lawyer, stole a number of law books from the courthouse and other buildings, and was arrested on a charge of larceny. Franks became his surety, giving a justified bond for $50 and swearing he was worth that much in excess of his debts. Justice fled the State and went to Alabama, forfeiting bail. An execution sent to Swain county for the amount of Franks' surety was returned with the statement that he was worth nothing. The bill against him, which the grand jury returned today as true, was drawn last July. All efforts to induce the authorities of Alabama to arrest Justice have failed.

GLEANINGS.

Either there is profound Democratic apathy in Montana or the campaign requirements of the people of that State are peculiar. Millionaire Clark proposes to appeal to the voters of that Commonwealth through the medium of one-ring circuses, minstrels, cake walks and vaudeville shows. The connection between a song and dance, a skirt dance, high-kicking, etc., and politics is not quite clear, though it is said that Mr. Clark's novel campaign plans were suggested by the Western stumping tour of Governor Roosevelt in his Rough Rider and cowboy character and Chairman Hanna's comic talk.

The Norfolk Ledger says: "There are one hundred and sixteen cities in the United States with a population in excess of 25,000, but only two of them—Richmond and Norfolk—are credited to Virginia. There is no city of that size in West Virginia, North Carolina and Mississippi, and but one in each of the States of Florida, Arkansas, South Carolina or Texas. With the exception of Baltimore, Louisville and New Orleans there are no cities in the South having as much as 100,000 population. Atlanta, Richmond and Nashville are close together, but neither of them reached the 90,000 notch when the census was taken in June.

Small spiders play havoc with the telegraph wires in the Argentine Republic. They build long cobwebs on the wires, and as soon as dew or rain falls the fine threads operate as conductors of the electric current. The effect is practically to stop the operation of some of the lines.

The Chicago Tribune has compiled a table showing the character of the weapons used by women in several hundred cases of assault and battery which were brought to the attention of the magistrates during the past year. The broom-handle seems to have been the favorite weapon of offense, said instrument having been wielded by 186 women. Hair-brushes, hat pins, stove lifters and rolling pins figured conspicuously in the feminine armory, and even the innocent nursing bottle was effectively employed by one Amazon.

Professor B. Tyler, of Indianapolis, holds that the average duration of human life would be three or four times longer than it is, if people would reject what he calls the "senseless practice" of cooking their food. Animals and fowls live much longer in proportion to the period of full development than does man. "Man, for some unknown reason, eats dead cells (cooked cells) to replace the dead cells that have been separated from the body," says Professor Tyler. "In cooking food all the acids and gases, so necessary for the conservation and preservation of ideal health, escape with the steam, and the food retains a greater supply of ash, lime and other substances than nature requires for the amount of food taken into the system."

The police officials of Salina, Kan., were made the victims of a senseless hoax one day last week, when a stranger called at headquarters and related a circumstantial story of how he had been robbed of a $40 bill. Every policeman in town was furnished with a description of the alleged thief, and a whole day was spent in looking for him before it dawned upon any of the sleuths that there is no such thing as a $40 bill. By that time the joker had disappeared from Salina.

There is a monument in St. Mary's Cemetery, Boonton, N. Y., to the memory of Edward Boylan, which has stood there for more than thirty years. Thirty-two years ago Boylan worked in the iron works of that place. One day he left Boonton with a number of others to contest in the Caledonian games at Paterson. During the day there was a riot, and a number of men were pushed into the river. As Boylan did not return, it was supposed that he was drowned and this monument to his memory was erected. On Friday, however, Boylan walked into the house of his brother-in-law, alive and well. Just what will become of the monument is not stated.

From the pocket of a coat that was one among a thousand piled high at the Texas relief bureau in Washington a letter was taken today that read as follows:

"Whoever you are that takes this letter out of this pocket, you may think it strange to receive it, but we are three sincere Chicago girls and we want to get married, with some new kind of a romance. Elopement is too thin.

"Now, if the receiver and two of his friends will think the same way we do, and we all get married, none of us will be sorry. If you think well of the idea write to this address: Misses Mary, Kitty and Sallie W. Englewood, Postal Station, Chicago, Ill."

The letter was replaced in the coat pocket and will go this way to Galveston.

FRIDAY SEPT. 28, 1900.

DEMAGOGUERY RUN TO SEED.

If the fool-killer were to strike this country at the present time he would find an endless task awaiting him. There are all sorts of fools roaming around, the most disgusting and nauseating of them all is being the political fool, the jackass that professes to believe everything will go to the demnition bow-wows in the event of the success of the political party against which he is throwing his influence. An individual of the latter description is at the head of a New Haven carriage manufactory. A few days ago he closed a contract with a Brooklyn concern to furnish a number of carriages at a stipulated price until October 15th, 1901, "provided President McKinley is re-elected." The contract bore the fol lowing indorsement:

This argeement to be null and void in case William J. Bryan is elected President of the United States in November, 1900.

As if the business interests of the United States were so puny and unstable as to depend upon the result of a National election! It is not the perpetuation of the doctrines of either Bryan or McKinley that the people of this country need to fear so much as the presence of such rabid demagogues as the New Haven chap has proven himself to be.

It comes with rather poor taste for Chairman Hanna to charge Mr. Bryan with making extravagant promises of office in order to draw the support of influential politicians. It will be remembered that your Uncle Mark is not entirely clear of this charge himself. It has been repeatedly charged and never denied that such work secured the nomination of McKinley at St. Louis in 1896. At that convention it is said that every approachable Southern delegate was induced to vote for Hanna's choice by the promise of office.

North Carolina people, unfortunately, continue to "happen to" all kinds of misfortunes, according to some of the newspapers of this State. From an exchange this week we were horrified to learn that Mr. So-and-So, of that town, "happened with" a serious accident last Monday. The unfortunate man may be a cousin of the fellow that was sick "on" his stomach.

The Telegram received today, too late for insertion in this issue, a communication from Judge W. R. Allen, of Goldsboro, in reply to an attack by Webster's Weekly on the political record of Mr. F. M. Simmons. It is a general denial of all the charges made by the Reidsville paper, with a few caustic utterances on the side.

Boss Hanna is said to be troubled over the optimistic view Mr. McKinley takes of the progress of the campaign. While McKinley has been enjoying the calm shades of Canton, Hanna has been up against the propositition and knows the occasion does not warrant a feeling of over confidence.

The Board of Aldermen would doubtless present a beautiful prize chromo to any one offering a suggestion for the settlement of the waterworks question that would be satisfactory to all parties.

So far no Southern negroes have been imported to take the places of striking Pennsylvania coal miners.

SAYINGS OF TARHEEL EDITORS.

The hour has struck in North Carolina when a Reform School for youthful criminals is a necessity. To longer delay its establishment is at the expense of society and the best interests of the commonwealth.—North Carolina Baptist.

In an interview a couple days ago Mark Hanna called Wm. J. Bryan "an as." In a speech in Chicago he said he wished he had "Bryan's eloquence." The eloquence of an ass? He has it. —Wilmington Star.

Along with compulsory education should be a law prohibiting children of tender years from working in factories. This should be done anyhow, whether compulsory education can be enforced or not.—Durham Herald.

Mr. George W. Vanderbilt will enter the hunt for the "Pithecanthropus," or missing link, in Java, it is said. If Mr. Vanderbilt cannot find the critter in the mountains that lie around Biltmore, he need not search for the 'ropus in Java.—Raleigh Times-Visitor.

Senator Butler is the most progressive kicker in North Carolina. He is arranging an indignation meeting campaign. Of course he is exceedingly indignant—losing one's grip on a $5,000 job, with absolutely nothing in prospect, is enough to beget indignation —Alamance Gleaner.

The South Carolinians should not complain because many North Carolinians voted in their recent primaries. We believe in reciprocity up here. In many of our elections we have had the assistance of South Carolina talent; but it was always black, and inasmuch as we lent the South Carolinians white men to help them out in their recent contest our neighbors over the line seem to have the better of the proposition.—Charlotte Observer.

THE STAFF OF LIFE.

Bread Seems to Be Falling In Favor as an Article of Diet.

"I look upon bread as an article of food destined to be completely abolished before many years," said a New York doctor, "for the number of persons who are willingly giving up the use of it increases every year. The majority of them do this on the advice of their physicians, who find more ground for recommending abstinence from bread as they see the results that such a course of treatment has on their patients.

"For nearly all forms of dyspepsia, gout, rheumatism and kindred ailments the patient is first told to shun bread unless it be submitted to certain preparation and be taken only in certain forms. The great increase in the number of hygienic foods that have been put upon the market and the almost invariable success of any of these manufactures which prove an acceptable substitute for bread and other starchy foods are other indications in the change of the public feeling toward bread as a simple food which could be taken under all circumstances.

"Some years ago a man wrote a book devoted chiefly to exposing to the world the harmful qualities of bread. Persons at that time thought he was a crank, and little attention was paid to his very sound utterances on the subject. But his opinions are now re-echoed by most physicians, and the great army of abstainers from bread gathers recruits every day. The revolt against such a well established institution is naturally a little bit slow. But bread is destined to be ultimately shunned even more than it is today, and this destruction of a tradition that has lasted centuries is already well under way. Most of its force comes from the complete satisfaction of the persons who do give up bread entirely. They are always the most enthusiastic advocates of the new theory on the subject."—New York Sun.

HE TESTED HIS SKILL.

The Result Moved the Philosopher to a Discourse on Success.

"Did you ever realize that the success that one really enjoys comes only through hard work?" asked the philosopher. "I know the average mortal would prefer to gain his ends without hard toil, but few do, and I doubt if those few gain any pleasure from having the plum drop in their laps without any effort on their part.

"I had that fact impressed upon me only the other day. I chanced during an idle moment to pick up an empty ink bottle, and something started my thoughts back to my boyhood days when an empty bottle furnished an ideal mark to throw stones at. Smiling to myself at the childishness of it, I set the bottle on a hitching post, and after carefully selecting a number of stones I stood off about 30 feet and prepared to make a test of my skill. The very first stone that I threw caught the bottle fairly in the center and shattered it into a hundred pieces. I threw away the stones that I had so carefully gathered in disgust. I had accomplished what I had set out to do on my first throw, but I fully realized that it was only a fluke and that I might throw 50 more stones and not come anywhere near the mark.

"Now, if, on the contrary, I had missed, I would have carefully noted where the fault lay and tried to have corrected it on my next throw. The throws that went too low and too high, as well as too much to one side, would have all been valuable lessons to me, and in the end I would have succeeded in placing a stone where I wanted it. That would have been success gained by working for it. The very few people who gain success on their first throw have my sympathy."—Detroit Free Press.

Nansen's Pancakes.

From boyhood Nansen accustomed himself to the use of snowshoes and would often go 40 or 50 miles on them without taking any food with him. He had a great dislike to any outfit for his excursions. On one occasion he and some of his friends set off on a long snowshoe expedition, all except Nansen having a wallet containing their provisions on their backs. When they got to the first resting place, Nansen unbuttoned his coat and took some smoking pancakes from the lining and asked his friends to share his food. They all refused, however, not caring for the mode of conveyance and heating. Nansen replied, "More fools you, for let me tell you there's jam in them."

A Story of Anthony Hope.

Anthony Hope Hawkins, always a believer in men of letters standing by each other, worked tremendously hard to help on the fund which the Authors' society of London is trying to accumulate, from which pensions are to be paid to authors whose literary merit has not brought them a corresponding income and who view increasing years with fear.

Once an unfortunate writer who visited Mr. Hawkins at his rooms in Buckingham street, by the Embankment gardens, exclaimed on leaving with something in his pocket, "Oh, sir, I feel that Providence must have sent me to you!"

And the reply came with a twinkle in his benefactor's eye, "Let us hope, however, that Providence will not acquire the habit of doing so."—Argonaut.

Camels In Water.

Camels cannot swim. They are very buoyant, but ill balanced, and their heads go under water. They can, however, be taught to swim rivers with the aid of goatskins or jars fastened under their necks. During the Baluchistan expedition of 1898 the camels were lowered into the sea from the ships, and their drivers, plunging overboard, clambered on to the backs of their charges, causing the animals' heads to come up, and thus assisted they were successfully piloted ashore.

IMPORTANT!

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 26th, 1900.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

On and after October 15th, 1900, we, the undersigned, will do a strictly cash business. Our reasons are as follows:

1st. Absolute NECESSITY.

2nd. Laundry, the world over, is a recognized cash business and justly so.

3rd. Our accounts are necessarily small, and it causes an endless amount of confusion and expense to collect, besides losses each year in bad bills.

4th. All of our current expenses, such as labor, fuel, gas and supplies are cash, hence the stand we take is forced upon us. While we very much regret, in most cases, to exact the spot cash, yet we must treat all alike, and we see no other way out of the difficulty. We trust our customers will lend us their aid by stating when to return laundry and by being prepared to pay for same when delivered. Our drivers will have positive instructions to return to the laundry all packages not paid for.

We have on sale at office (for cash) coupon books from $1 to $5 which can be left at convenient place at home, so that on delivery of bundle the amount of laundry bill can be torn out by the driver.

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

GREENSBORO STEAM LAUNDRY, Jno. M. Dick, Proprietor, | GATE CITY STEAM LAUNDRY, W. A. Fields, Proprietor.

The Reputation

of a store, like that of a man is no small part of its capital. Honesty is an asset which we believe our customers appreciate at its full value. Our prescription work is the best that science, experience and money can produce.

THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

The Coming Legislature Can Honor Itself by Increasing the Appropriation.

North Carolina Baptist.

The Soldiers' Home in Raleigh is full. There are many feeble, helpless, poor boys of the gray over this State whose last days on earth would be much brightened by having a better place to dwell. They have been unfortunate in life or perhaps lost a limb or health in the loyal service of the sixties and have not the comforts they need. These wornout veterans will not be with us much longer. Soon the drum beat will sound without an answer when it calls for the braves of the glorious cause. Why not help now? Far better than cold stone to their memory is a loving cup of ministration to their battleworn bodies. Monuments are all well in their place, but not so as long as a helpless old Confederate in the State needs help. The coming Legislature can do itself a great honor by increasing the appropriation for the Soldiers' Home. Will North Carolina forget those sons who responded to the bugle call when she called for defenders? As they were once our defenders so now we are theirs!

CENTRAL CAROLINA FAIR.

"We have tried to remove the 'hog' from our midst, but the old timers have bucked against us and it looks now like they had us done for.

"Now we arise to a point of order. If the hog is a necessity, let us have a big show in swine at the Central Carolina Fair."

Gentlemen, bring out your fat specimens and get the prize. The date is October 9-12, inclusive.

One of our sister towns, not a hundred miles away, makes boast of so many hundred fine milch cows, so many hundred fine thorough bred pigs, and poultry in such quantities that they didn't stop to count them. Neighbors, bring the best pair of these to our Fair. We have a prize for the best. October 9-12 is the date.

It is imprudent to keep an oil or gas stove burning in a sleeping room. They consume the oxygen and thus vitiate the air.

ENCOURAGING EDUCATION.

The Child Must Get Down to Business and the Parent Must See That it Does.

Concord Tribune.

Since the passage of the Constitutional Amendment the people of North Carolina have taken hold on the question of education as never before. Now that Aycock is elected the people may expect him as Governor to do all in his power to improve the school system. It must be borne in mind, however, that Mr. Aycock nor no other man nor party of men can educate the State. The people must not only support and uphold the administration but encourage the education of the masses. You might put a school house at every man's door and what would be the good if the parents shut the door and put their children out of reach of the teacher. We want to encourage education among the people. Want to make them realize the great need and benefit of the school. There are today hundreds of children in North Carolina out of school, passing by the open door every day. Don't expect Mr. Aycock and his administration, by the use of a few dollars and a magic wand, to convert your child from an illiterate to an educated one. Money and school houses "to burn" would do no good if only used as an ornament. The child must get down to business and the parent must see that it does. So while the lawmakers and leaders devise plans it is also necessary that the masses of the people should be educated to realize the great and pressing need of the school.

A LIFE AND DEATHG FIHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

GLORIOUS NEWS

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help: but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist. Guaranteed.

TRY TO DODGE DEATH

The Most Childish Expedients Resorted to by Monomaniacs on This Subject — Some of the Queerest Cases.

A man who, while poor, is not more afraid to die than most people, often develops a haunting terror of death after he has made a big fortune, and spends an unhappy life and huge sums of money in trying to avoid the coming fate, frequently hurrying himself into a premature grave through sheer worry and fear. This passion, says London Answers, has turned the brains of a good many wealthy people and made monomaniacs of them. They resort to the most childish expedients to keep death from their doors.

You remember Kipling's character, who had his chair slung on ropes from a beam that the world might spin under him, instead of carrying him along to grow older. There was an actual case very like this a few years ago, when John Islip, an Englishman, who made a huge fortune out of silver in Mexico, drove himself mad through worrying about his death.

After exhausting all the safeguards London could offer, he bought a small rocky island called Brychil, on the West Irish coast, taking with him one faithful servitor. Here, in feverish haste, he had four stone pillars raised and a small one-storied cabin, with three rooms, rather like a houseboat, slung on chairs from iron girders that crossed the pillars and swung clear of the ground. Once inside this, he shut himself up with some books and a pet jackdaw for company, and never left his swinging house until his death.

The attendant, who lived in a small house close by, used to row to the mainland—a mile and a half—when the weather permitted, for provisions. The master spent his time reading and looking out over the Atlantic from the cabin windows. His brain had given way, of course, and he imagined his life stood still, while the earth revolved under him. He had no relatives to insist on his entering a private asylum, and he died three years later in the cabin, worried out of life by the fear of death. His hair was snow-white, though he was only 43.

Another wealthy man, Jean Inglesant, though he had made a fortune by shrewd speculation, also gave way to the dread of death. He conceived the idea that all movement and effort wasted the tissues of the body, and this notion sunk so deeply into his mind that he went to bed in a quiet country house and hardly moved hand or foot for years; if he even stirred a finger he did it with dread, believing it used up his vitality and shortened his life by so much time. He spoke as little as possible, sometimes not opening his lips for days, and was fed by attendants with spoons. All his food consisted of "slops," to save him the fatal exertion of chewing, and his one amusement was being read to by the hour together, for he would not hold a book or turn the pages. Even the reading he did away with toward the close of his life, believing that listening shortened his existence.

One of the queerest cases was that of a Mrs. Holmes, a very wealthy widow, who had a terrible fear of germs and bacilli of all kinds. She had studied the subject deeply, and it affected her reason, to all appearance. The dread of death seized her, and she was convinced she would die by some wasting disease inspired by microbes. Knowing that cold is fatal to the average germ, she had two rooms adjoining each other fitted as refrigerators and kept constantly at a temperature of about 30 degrees, or just below freezing point. One would suppose this to be more trying than any quantity of microbes; but the owner was happy in her consciousness of freedom from germ diseases. Winter and summer the rooms were kept at the same point, and the adjoining rooms and hall were also kept cool, that no current of warm air might bring bacilli in.

This lady lived clad in furs throughout the hottest days that blazed outside, and her attendants and servants were obliged to constantly disinfect themselves before entering her presence. They lived in a perpetual atmosphere of carbolic acid, and their mistress had to pay very high wages to induce any servants to stay with her.

How Boers Spot the British Officers.

It is curious to note that the earl of Airlie met his death, not by a stray or chance bullet, but by a shower of lead sent at him through the reflection of the sun's rays onto his field glass, having practically heliographed to the enemy's sharpshooters the position of a British officer of some distinction. It was said at the time that Sir George Colley lost his life on the crest of Majuba hill in the same way, and that the bullet which killed him drove some of the glass into the fatal wound. It is notorious that since the British officers, whom the Boer sharpshooters have special instructions to pick off, have dressed themselves down as far as possible to the appearance of an ordinary soldier the enemy have kept eyes open for men using field glasses, and have already secured numerous victims that way.—London Chronicle.

Bees in the Telephone Business.

In rural districts where there are plenty of bees and where the villages have sufficient enterprise to use telephones great care has to be taken to prevent bees from investigating the telephone boxes, and persons who have wanted to shout "Hello!" through them have met with what they thought electric shocks.—Little Chronicle.

GRANTS TO FOREIGN POWERS.

The Liberal Territorial Cessions China Has Made from Time to Time.

Each conflict in which China has engaged has resulted in a loss of territory. The principal cessions made by the Mongol government as the price of peace have been the following: The island of Formosa was ceded to Japan in 1895, after the war with China. In 1897 Germany seized the port of Kiou-Chou on the east coast of the Shantung peninsula, her excuse for so doing being a massacre of missionaries which had taken place there. Two months later she received from China a 99-year lease of the port and district. In 1898 Russia obtained from China a 25-year lease of Port Arthur, Talienwan and their adjacent territories and waters. The lease can be extended by mutual agreement. The same year the Chinese government gave permission for Great Britain to occupy Wei-Hai-Wei for as long a period as Russia shall hold Port Arthur. To compensate France for the concessions given to Great Britain and Russia a 99-year lease was given her of the bay of Kwang-Chau-Wan, on the coast opposite the island of Hainan, and last year two islands at the entrance of the bay were definitely ceded to her. Hong-Kong was ceded to Great Britain in 1841.

A scientific statistical work just published fixes the population of Europe at 381,000,000, an increase of 79,000,000 since 1870, or an annual increase of about 3,000,000.—N. Y. Journal.

RAILROAD WRECKS.

Thomas A. Scott Used to Handle Them Without Gloves.

"When that wonderful railroad genius, the late Thomas A. Scott, was building up the Pennsylvania system, the work he did was superhuman, the results he accomplished marvelous," said an old railroad man. "Scott was essentially a man of action. For example, at one time there occurred on the line a freight wreck that piled up scores of cars in a confused heap in a cutting, thus completely barring the main line.

"The local authorities were beside themselves, for they could not figure out how the wreck could be cleared away and the line reopened in less than two weeks. At this juncture Scott arrived on the scene and after a survey of the wreck sent for a great quantity of coal oil, with which he had the pile thoroughly drenched. It was then touched off, and the god of fire soon removed all trace of it, and traffic was resumed on the line in 24 hours.

"A bridge fell, and it was feared a long delay must ensue, but Scott put more than 2,000 men to work on that one structure and thus eliminated the question of delay. Those were the days when such things counted and were not only possible, but necessary. Today railroading is reduced to such a fine point that the need for them no longer exists. The roads are too safeguarded for that.

"The last instance I remember of such railroad work as that was at the Johnstown flood in 1889, I think it was. Frank Thomson, by great work and the use of side lines, was one of the first to arrive upon the scene. Once there, he took full control, the division superintendents from all over the line were summoned, and a particular task was given to each one to do instantly. They one and all responded as best they could to the spur, and the line was reopened with incredible swiftness. There were one or two failures, however, and those men, while they were kept on as superintendents of unimportant mountain divisions, were never again promoted."—New York Tribune.

Saved by Seaweed.

"I was once saved by seaweed," said an old sea captain, "down in the Falkland islands. We were being washed on a lee shore when the skipper, an old fellow from Nova Scotia, picked up a vine that was floating on the water and hauled it in until it got pretty near as big as a man's body; then he made it fast, and we swung by it, as good a cable as you would want to see and one of the curiousest things."—Philadelphia Press.
